One of the most amazing things about eating at this particular restaurant in Georgia hands down, has to be the view. Having a view like this while you're chowing down with your family is an experience that everyone should have at least once in their lifetime. Whether a mountain breakfast or a lunchtime stop, make The Maple Restaurant a must-try this autumn.

Nestled in the middle of the famed Amicalola State Park you'll find a hidden gem of a restaurant called The Maple.
